FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Fortune Magazine Recognizes Walker & Dunlop as a Best Workplace for Millennials

Bethesda, Maryland – June 27, 2017 – Walker & Dunlop, Inc. (NYSE: WD) (the “Company”) announced today that it was named one of the Best Workplaces for Millennials in the United States by Great Place to Work® and Fortune Magazine. Walker & Dunlop’s flexible work policy, paid volunteer hours, high potential leadership program, and team-building events are just a few of the Company’s offerings that have helped it attract and retain its current employee base, of which 52 percent is Millennials.

“Walker & Dunlop is very excited to be recognized as a Best Workplace for Millennials, an award that highlights our focus on fostering a culture that is inclusive, recognizes hard work, and provides opportunities for career advancement, workplace characteristics that are important to Millennials,” commented the Company’s President, Howard W. Smith.

Greg Florkowski, a senior vice president and Millennial at Walker & Dunlop, stated, “Walker & Dunlop promoted my professional development and valued my input from the moment I joined the Company, and as a senior manager, I work very hard to ensure that my team feels the same way. My generation values the ability to have a meaningful career path with a solid support system, which is why so many Millennials want to build their careers at Walker & Dunlop.”

To determine the Best Workplaces for Millennials, Great Place to Work® surveyed over 398,000 United States employees from Great Place to Work-Certified™ companies and ranked them using the results of the anonymous surveys. The responses of both Millennials and employees of other generations were used to select the winning companies.
